DR. LORENZ PRESENT TERRIBLE COLLISION

IS WARMLY GREETED TWENTY LIVES LOST

The Various Sections Transact Quite a Lot of Business and the Doctor Give and Receive Considerable Information. The Knife-like Steel Prow of One of the Vessels Struck the Other and Cut the Entire Rim of That Vessel Away.

New Orleans, May 6.—Sectional meetings kept the delegates to the American Medical association busy to-day.

There were seven of them in the forenoon and a dozen in the afternoon. Dr. Adolph Lorenz has been a conspicuous figure at the section of surgery and anatomy. Though he entered the hall quietly at the opening, he was immediately recognized and introduced from the chair by Chairman James E. Moore. He was very cordially acknowledged and briefly expressed his acknowledgements. Stories have been afloat that there would be some criticisms of Dr. Lorenz' methods in the discussions, but nothing of this character has yet cropped out. Dr. Lorenz says he is simply here as a visitor, with no desire to appear as a participant.

As a result of interesting papers read by Drs. H. M. Bracken and Greys L. Wilbur and Hon. W. A. King, of the census bureau, resolutions have been passed by the hygiene and science department impressing physicians throughout the country with the necessity of co-operation with the census bureau in recording vital statistics and improving methods of determining causes of death.

At a meeting of the section of materia medica, pharmacy and therapeutics Dr. Robinson read the committee report declaring there are too many "patent medicines" and proposing an act of congress to limit the sale of poisonous and dangerous patent medicines.

The Southern Medical College association elected Dr. Christopher Tompkins of Richmond, president; Dr. McNamara of Birmingham, vice-president, and Dr. G. C. Savage of Nashville, secretary-treasurer, and selected Birmingham for the next place of meeting.

The American Medical Editors elected Dr. Sajos of Philadelphia president, Dr. Chassaignac of New Orleans and Dr. Ball of St. Louis vice presidents and J. McDonald, Jr., of New York, secretary-treasurer.

DEMOCRATS WIN.

Elect Their Candidate in Baltimore for Mayor and Control Council.

Baltimore, May 7.—Ballots in 304 of the election precincts cast Thursday in the municipal election in this city gave Robert M. McLean, the Democratic candidate for the mayoralty, a plurality over Frank M. Wachter, Republican, of 520. Ballots remaining in four precincts are still uncounted owing to disputes among judges of election. They are now in possession of the board of election supervisors. It is not thought the probable count of these ballots will materially change the result.

Wachter, the Republican candidate, and his party leaders charge many ballots cast in his favor has been illegally thrown out and they announce they will appeal to the courts. Republican candidates for city comptroller and president of the second branch of the city council were elected. Republicans have a majority in the second branch of the city council and the Democrats a majority in the first branch.

The Democrats have a majority on joint ballot and will thus elect city register.

Tunnell Taken Home.

Philadelphia, May 6.—Captain James Tunnell of the Clyde liner Saginaw, which was sunk Thursday by the steamer Hamilton of the Old Dominion line off the Virginia coast, was brought here from Norfolk. Two of his ribs are fractured and a hand badly lacerated. He is also internally injured and suffers greatly from the shock. He was removed to his home.

Chief Engineer Selzer reported at the office of the company, but the officials say they have no statement to make until Captain Tunnell is able to give an official account of the disaster.

Norfolk, Va., May 6.—A collision at sea that cost the lives of twenty people and the sinking of the Clyde line steamship Saginaw by the Old Dominion company's liner Hamilton occurred between Winter Quarter lightship and Fenwick Island lightship, on the Virginia coast Tuesday. The Hamilton left New York Monday afternoon for Norfolk, and the Saginaw passed the Virginia capes at 9 o'clock that night bound from Richmond and Norfolk for Philadelphia. A dense fog settled along the coast shortly after midnight and while going through this fog at reduced speed the Hamilton crashed into the Saginaw's side about twenty feet from the stern. The scene of the collision is about thirteen or fourteen miles off shore, and between 180 and 200 miles south of New York, and between 125 and 140 miles north of Norfolk.

The fog whistles of both vessels were distinctly heard by each other for several minutes before the collision occurred. According to Captain Boaz of the Hamilton his ship was making about nine miles an hour and the Saginaw about ten. The fog was so thick that objects a ship's length away were invisible, and when the two crafts hove in sight of each other, bows on, there was but a moment's interim before they met. The Saginaw veered, as did the Hamilton, but they had not time to clear each other, and the knife-like steel prow of the south-bound vessel struck the Clyde ship on the port quarter about twenty feet from her stern, cutting the entire rear of the ship away. The rushing water caused the Saginaw to settle rapidly in the stern, and the impetus of the Hamilton took her out of sight of the crippled vessel. Engines were reversed, were put full steam to the rear, and the Hamilton circled to the scene of the wreck, at the same time lowering two lifeboats.

There was consternation among the passengers of the Old Dominion ship, and the first thought was for their safety, but so soon as it was discovered that the ship was uninjured save that some bowplates were stove in, all efforts were directed to the rescue of those on the Saginaw.

When the Saginaw was again sighted her stern was under water and her bow high in the air. Panicked people rushed over her decks and scrambled toward the bow. Lifeboats were lowered, and into the first fifteen colored women were placed, according to Second Officer W. L. Morris, who was in command. The boat was swamped as it struck the water, and its occupants were thrown into the sea. All were drowned save the second officer and the colored stewardess. The latter died from fright before the small boat reached the Hamilton.

The Hamilton hovered around the scene of the wreck for more than an hour, but no sign of life could be seen among the mass of the floating freight. Two bodies, one of a man and the other of a woman, both clad only in night dress, were observed drifting between bales of cotton and cases of goods.

The first news of the disaster was learned at Old Point, where the Hamilton stopped for a few moments on her way to Norfolk.

ARKANSAS FRACAS.

Pullman Car Conductor Severely Cut by a Leading Attorney.

Little Rock, May 6.—A special to the Arkansas Gazette from Fort Smith says: Colonel Oscar L. Miles, counsel for the Iron Mountain railroad, Monday night severely cut H. W. Engle, a Pullman car conductor, in the railway station here. Colonel Miles states that he was grossly insulted by Engle, and that he slapped Engle's face. The negro porter came to Engle's rescue, and Colonel Miles, fearing an assault by the two men, cut Engle in the neck and side. Engle claims he was assaulted without provocation. Colonel Miles is one of the most prominent attorneys in Arkansas.

Welcomed Back.

London, May 6.—King Edward received a great popular welcome on his arrival in London from Portsmouth. The railroad station was closed to the public, but the approaches were thronged by large crowds and the road to Buckingham palace, which was gallily decorated with flags, was thickly lined with people. The Prince of Wales, Field Marshal Lord Roberts and others greeted the king. After inspecting the guard of honor, the king drove to the palace visibly pleased by the hearty cheers which followed his progress. He appeared in excellent health.

Rumored Assassinated.

Madrid, May 6.—A dispatch to Im-parcial from Melilla says it is rumored that the pretender has been assassinated at Zelonan.

The person who neglects to provide for a "Rainy Day" neglects the first duty of a man. Every practical thinking man realizes that it is a duty he owes to himself and his family to save a portion, however small, of his earnings. A saving account opened early in life and systematically kept up, will in time afford the means to grasp business opportunities. It will help to buy a home, provide in time of sickness and insure a competency and the comforts of life in old age. For children no better or acceptable present could be made to a child than a savings account where the money is absolutely safe. "No boy ever became great as a man who did not in youth learn to save money."

MEN'S FURNISHERS

According to a statement by New York authorities on the subject, the town of Bryan received last year a total of $59,890 from payment of life insurance policies. In this matter Bryan not only leads, but quadruples the other towns of the State in her class, for last year Galveston's receipts from life policies paid were of course large—$631,245.

The community of Ursuline Nuns of Galveston, to meet debts incurred on account of the great Galveston storm disaster, have issued and offered for sale bonds to the amount of $150,000.

The Mutual Improvement Club met with the president, Mrs. L. L. McInnis, yesterday afternoon and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Mrs. W. D. Lawrence, president; Mrs. M. W. Sims, vice-president; Mrs. J. A. McQueen, recording secretary; Mrs. G. M. Brandon, corresponding secretary; Mrs. John T. Hanway, treasurer; Mrs. A. M. Waldrop, parliamentarian; Mrs. T. R. Batte, critic; Mrs. W. S. Howell, reporter. Mrs. Lawrence was elected delegate to the state federation meeting and Mrs. McQueen alternate.

Not a German.

Bryan, Texas, May 5, 1903. To the Bryan Eagle.
DEAR SIR: I read in the issue of today a notice about the first picture book. Everything is all right except the remark that John A. Comenius was a German. He was no German at all. He was born March 28, A. D. 1592, in Moravia. He was a Moravian; a bishop of the Bohemian and Moravian brethren. He died at Amsterdam Nov. 15, 1671, which is one of the principal cities of Hollandia. The Germans have, therefore, no right to call John A. Comenius a German. Respectfully,
Father F. Machan.

NOT ENDED.

The Statement of President Zelaya Is Declared to Be Misleading.

New Orleans, May 6.—It has been learned by the Picayune from a reliable source in the tropics that statements from President Zelaya of Nicaragua that the revolution is at end and the country is in a peaceful condition are, to say the least, misleading. News reached the city Tuesday by mail from a thoroughly reliable inside source that the revolution is not at an end and that the government forces are so situated they are unable to cross Lake Nicaragua to attack points where the revolutionary forces are fortified.

Fort San Carlos, one of the points captured by the revolutionary forces, is situated at the mouth of San Juan river, the outlet from the lake to the sea. It is this river which is used to carry all exports to the interior of the republic, and without use of the river it would be impossible to move large forces of troops in anything like the necessary time.

Fort Castillo, which is situated midway down the river, is also in the hands of a revolutionary body, and a gunboat owned by the Zelaya government has also been captured and is in the hands of revolutionaries. With this craft revolutionary leaders expect to lead off any shipment of troops across the lake from Managua, Rivas, Granada, or any other cities located on the west shore of the lake.

IRRITATION GROWS.

Feeling in Turkey Against Bulgarians Constantly Increasing.

Constantinople, May 6.—Irritation in Turkish official circles against Bulgaria is constantly growing more acute and the government of that principality has been formally notified that the porte holds it responsible for outrages arising from the freedom of action which Macedonian agitators living in Bulgaria have been allowed. It is reported that the porte has decided to mobilize the whole Second and Third army corps.

The police of Constantinople have arrested about sixty Bulgarians and made numerous domiciliary visits. Alarming reports are in circulation regarding outrages which are said to be projected here.

The military and police guards in this city and suburbs have been considerably strengthened. In the district of Pristrend twenty-two Albanian chiefs have been arrested.

LOST HEAVILY.

Revolutionists Had Seventy Killed and One Hundred Turks Slain.

Salonica, May 6.—In an engagement between Turkish troops and revolutionists at Okrina on May 2 seventy-one revolutionists were killed and twenty-one wounded. The Turks lost 100 killed and ten officers and six men wounded. After an interview with the governor general, the British and Italian consuls here expressed themselves as satisfied with the precautionary measures taken. All foreign consulates and banking establishments are guarded by troops, while the streets are patrolled constantly.

Disturbances in Salonica.

Vienna, May 6.—Advices received here from Salonica say, notwithstanding the fact that hundreds of Bulgarians have been arrested, street fights are constantly taking place. Women and children, especially young girls, take a prominent part in these disturbances.

Bombs have been discovered in houses at Uskub, European Turkey, where the Turkish population is greatly excited, fearing massacre.

Reported Murdered.

Vienna, May 6.—An unconfirmed rumor is current here that Albanians murdered the Turkish general of the Uskub district. Politische Correspondenz states that the sultan recently issued an irade ordering the immediate construction of a large number of blockhouses along the Bulgarian frontier.

To Float Loan.

New York, May 6.—It is stated on high authority negotiations are almost completed to float the Mexican loan, ostensibly in this country, but really abroad. The amount of the loan will not be less than $25,000,000, and will, it is thought, take the form of 5 per cent bonds. The money will be used to public improvements.

HIGGS-WREN.

A Home Wedding Last Night of a Popular Bryan Pair.

A beautiful wedding occurred last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Wren, in this city, being the union of their granddaughter, Miss Belle Wren, with Mr. Will S. Higgs. Near relatives and neighboring friends of the contracting parties were invited and made a very merry party in the beautifully decorated parlor.

At 9 o'clock Miss Trannie Wren, sister of the bride, played sweetly the Mendelssohn Wedding March, after which Dr. J. D. West, with impressive manner, pronounced the wedding service which made the young couple man and wife.

The decorations used were natural flowers. Refreshments were served by little Misses Hazel and Lucille Sanders, cousins to the bride.

The bride wore a dainty dress of white silk, elaborate in handwork and real lace. White mouselin and satin ribbon completed the costume.

The bride is a beautiful and accomplished young lady, the daughter of Mr. W. E. Wren of Iowa. She possesses the sweetest charms of girlhood, graced by culture and refinement of manner.

Mr. Higgs is a sturdy young business man, whom all know but to respect. Both have been raised here at Bryan and have a host of friends.

The Eagle wishes them long life and the full measure of happiness which their merits deserve.

Many beautiful presents were received from friends here and elsewhere.

KEEP SOMETHING GOING!

The Eagle Wants Two Correspondents to Tour Colorado.

It will never do to let things get too dull in Bryan this summer, and the Eagle has decided to start something. We want two bright young people, or old people—we don't care which—to go to Colorado this summer and to write us one letter a week each. One will represent our daily paper and the other will represent the weekly.

We will pay the railroad fare of the correspondents, giving them a trip from Bryan to Boulder, Colo., and return (via Pueblo, Colorado Springs, Manitou, Palmer Lake and Denver), with stop-over privileges in each direction, and good until Oct. 31st, 1903, for return passage; also one side trip from Denver or Colorado Springs to Cripple Creek and return.

This is going to be a rare treat to some two people in Bryan. We are not going to make the selection of the beneficiaries of this offer, but are going to give our readers a chance to do so by voting for their favorites.

Beginning in a few days now, we will print coupons in the papers, both daily and weekly, and by clipping these coupons and voting them our readers may say who shall be the recipients of these favors.

We hope this contest will please our patrons, and that a lively interest will be taken in it as it proceeds

MONROE DOCTRINE.

Foreign Secretary Lansdowne Evidently Favors the Same.

London, May 6.—Foreign Secretary Lansdowne proclaimed British Monroe doctrine in Persian gulf and practically notified competing powers that any attempt on their part to establish a naval base or fortified post in those waters means war with Great Britain. "I say without hesitation," said the foreign secretary, in dealing with the subject in the house of lords Tuesday evening, "that we should regard the establishment of a naval base or fortified post in the Persian gulf by any other power as a very grave menace of British interests, and we certainly will resist it with all the means at our disposal."

Lord Lansdowne's attitude in this matter generally meets with approval, although answers thereto of other powers interested in the gulf are awaited with some anxiety.

Called Out and Killed.

Little Rock, May 6.—A special to the Arkansas Gazette, from Wabbaseka, Ark., says: Dr. Ike Cummings shot and killed J. C. O'Kelly. The trouble grew out of a remark made by O'Kelly about a young woman. Dr. Cummings went to O'Kelly's home, called him out and killed him. Both men were prominent.

Pipe Plant Burned.

Birmingham, May 6.—The entire plant of the Stephen Sewer Pipe Line company, located at North Birmingham, was destroyed by fire, entailing a loss of $150,000, with about $75,000 insurance.

FEARFUL RATE.

Tionesta, Pa., May 6.—Standing in a mill pond with the water to his neck, where he had gone to escape a forest fire, Walter Boyd, part owner of the Hat's shingle mill, near Pigeon, was burned to death. A tank of oil exploded and the burning fluid covered the man.

More Stringent Measures.

Phillippopolis, Bulgaria, May 6.—The Bulgarian government has adopted more stringent measures to prevent revolutionists from crossing the frontier into Macedonia.

FIXED DATES IN RUSSIA.

They Rule Even in Simple Things With Absolute Tyranny.

Routine is exceedingly strong in Russia. There is a day in June upon which, says tradition, it becomes safe to bathe in the rivers after the winter freeze. No matter how warm the water may be on that day, then is the time to take the first swim. Other fixed dates are mentioned in "Ivan at Home," by Herbert Barry. Of course the statements do not apply to all Russians, but to the average peasant only.

No man dare touch an apple before the 6th of August, however ripe the fruit may really be before that day. He does not believe it is fit to eat.

The village sportsman, although he may have observed the blackcocks fighting among themselves unusually early owing to the warmth of the spring, cannot make up his mind to shoot them until the appointed day has arrived.

No traveler will start on a journey on either a Monday or a Friday.

Although the delay is strongly against his own interests the fisherman will not cast his nets before a certain day, whether the season be late or early.

No lamb is supposed to be able to reach the age of mutton should it have been born before the day named in the peasant's calendar. And so on through all the common events in their daily life does this attachment to fixed dates hedge in a Russian's existence.

Finnish Grammar.

Finnish grammar is of a difficulty absolutely repulsive. None of the other languages of the same group is half so hard. Hungarian—nay, even Turkish, despite the vexatious initial impediment of the Arabic alphabet—is easy in comparison. The syntax is at once provokingly elaborate and perplexingly obscure. It possesses fifteen distinct cases and four and twenty differentiated infinitive forms; but, on the other hand, there is no real distinction between nouns, adjectives, adverbs, prepositions, infinitives and participles, so that the student must not be startled by finding infinitives regularly declined like nouns, and nouns taking upon them degrees of comparison like adjectives.

What Is In a Name?

Once upon a time there was a creditor to a large amount whose debtor constantly refused payment. The creditor became impatient and after investigation found that the debtor lived in a better house than he did, dressed better, clothed his wife in silks, satins and laces and spent dollars where he, the creditor, spent cents. Then he was wroth.

"I will sue the wealthy debtor," he said, "and collect what is owing me."

He brought suit and disclosed a large amount of valuable property; but, alas, it was all in the name of the debtor's wife, and he got not a single cent.

Moral.—There is often a great deal in a name.—New York Herald.

Finished the Text.

Apropos of mottoes on houses, a correspondent of the Westminster Gazette relates that a man in Scotland wished to have cut over the door of a new house the text, "My house shall be called a house of prayer." He left the workmen to carry out his wishes during his absence, and on his return his horror was great to find the quotation completed, "But ye have made it a den of thieves." "We had a wee thing mair room, ye see, so we just pit in the end o' the verse," was the explanation given by the Bible loving Scot.

Pipes and Hymns.

Rev. Dr. Parr, when perpetual curate of Hutton, Warwickshire, which living he held from 1783 to 1790, regularly smoked in the vestry while the congregation was singing long hymns, chose, for the purpose, immediately before the sermon. The doctor was wont to exclaim, "My people like long hymns, but I prefer a long pipe."—London Telegraph.

Unselfish.

"Widowhood makes a woman unselfish."

"Why so?"

"Because she ceases to look out for No. 1 and begins to look out for No. 2."—Town and Country.

AT LOGGERHEADS.

Judges and Prosecuting Attorneys Differ on Certain Legal Matters.

Fort Worth, May 6.—County Judge Special Judge Davis and the prosecuting attorney's office are at loggerheads, Judge Milam who is ill, sent word to the bar association asking it to make T. C. Smith special county judge. The bar refused and elected James S. Davis. Judge Milam attempted to adjourn court Tuesday, but failed. This morning when Davis opened court Prosecuting Attorney Lattimore refused to appear in court and represent the state. Davis appointed Judge W. R. Parker prosecuting attorney and when he went to Lattimore's office for legal papers they were refused him. Judge Davis issued an order to Sheriff Honea in substance that if Lattimore still refused to give up legal documents of the court that he should be remanded to jail. The papers were finally turned over to Parker.

Tabor Gone to Cuba.

Austin, May 6.—State Health Officer G. R. Tabor left for Cuba to inspect sanitary conditions on the island. He went via New Orleans at which place he will be joined by President Stuchon of the Louisiana board of health, and members of the board of health of Alabama. They will be gone about three weeks. They go to investigate the reports received here that the island was in a good sanitary condition, and they will see for themselves. Headquarters will be at Havana.

Opinion of Bell.

Austin, May 6.—The attorney general handed down an opinion to the commissioner of the general land office informing him that he would not be authorized to draw sales or leases of land leased in the absolute lease district unless the same should be canceled for non-payment of rent.

COSTLY TURKEY.

The Bird Was Stuffed With One Hundred Dollar Bills.

Morristown, N. J., May 6.—Stuffed with one dollar bills, 100 of them, was a turkey that has been received by Mrs. E. C. Adams of this place.

The gift came from Mr. Adams, who had been mysteriously missing for seven months. Its stuffing was discovered when they prepared the turkey for dinner and it was used to secure the passage of the Adams family to Sister Lakes, Mich., where the head of the house now resides.

Adams was a carpenter. Just before Thanksgiving times were especially dull and the outlook for a Thanksgiving dinner was very slim. On the eve of the feast day Adams left his home, saying he would not return until he brought a turkey with him. From that time no word from him was received until the turkey came by express. Pinned to the bird was a note.

MAXWELL NO MORE.

Noted Jurist and Ex-Confederate States Senator Passes Over the River.

Chipley, Fla., May 6.—Judge A. E. Maxwell, with the exception of Senator Vest, the last surviving member of the Confederate states senate, died today, aged eighty-three. Judge Maxwell was a member of congress from 1853 to 1857; Confederate states senator from 1862 to 1865. He was appointed judge of the state supreme court in 1866; was circuit judge in 1877-85, and was chief justice of Florida from 1887 to 1891.

TRUE BILLS.

They Have Been Returned Against Seamen of British Bark Veronica.

Liverpool, May 6.—The grand jury returned true bills against George Monson, Gustave Rau, alias August Malahan, and William Smith, alias Dirkherlaar, seamen of the British bark Veronica from Ship Island, Miss., who were indicted on charges of murder and arson. The Veronica was burned at sea Dec. 29. The prisoners are charged with murdering Captain Shaw and six other members of the crew.

Tragedy in New York.

New York, May 6.—A man McMahon was shot and almost instantly killed in Hamilton street Tuesday. His slayer, said to be Patrick, alias "John" Shea, an ex-convict, escaped immediately after the shooting and up to a late hour last night had not been arrested. According to the story of the few witnesses of the shooting, McMahon had no warning. He was grasped by the neck and a revolver thrust in his face. The cause of the shooting, from what the police can learn, was apparently a fight between the two men Sunday evening, when Shea was badly beaten.

Victim of Hallucination.

Monterey, Mex., May 6.—Jesus Tomas Guerrero, a young lawyer of this city, is at the police station, where he is held on the charge of insanity. He is the victim of hallucinations, being possessed of the idea that he was a prominent factor in some affair of state that made it necessary for him to write letters to those occupying high official places. King Edward and President Roosevelt have been recipients of his letters, as well as a large number of minor officials in this and other countries.

Work Abandoned.

New Orleans, May 6.—Work on the Hymella crevasse above the city, which has been running for several weeks, has finally been abandoned. No further attempt will be made to mend the broken levee until the river again is within its banks. Over $150,000 has been expended in an effort to close the crevasse.

Goes to Dallas.

Silverton, Col., May 6.—Rev. George Eaves, pastor of the Congregational church at Silverton, has accepted a call to the Central Congregational church of Dallas, Tex., and is making arrangements to leave for his new station.
